North Cronulla SLSC Redevelopment Update – Council appointment of Lead Design Consultant

Dear Members,

Sutherland Shire Council has announced the appointment of Jasmax as the Lead Design Consultant for the North Cronulla Surf Life Saving Club Redevelopment Project. This announcement represents a significant milestone in the redevelopment journey of our Club and marks the next important step towards delivering a modern, fit-for-purpose facility for our members, our lifesaving volunteers and the broader community.

Jasmax is a leading trans-Tasman architecture and design practice with extensive experience delivering complex projects across Australia and New Zealand. With a strong portfolio spanning community, sporting, education, health and major public infrastructure projects, Jasmax brings valuable expertise in designing facilities that respond to the needs of the communities they serve.

As Lead Design Consultant, Jasmax will guide the next phase of the redevelopment by leading the design process, coordinating specialist consultants, progressing planning approvals, supporting construction documentation and providing design support through the future delivery stages of the project.

The appointment follows a rigorous procurement process undertaken by Sutherland Shire Council, which attracted 26 high-quality submissions from leading design practices across Australia and provides clear direction for the next stage of the redevelopment and demonstrates the continued commitment of all stakeholders to delivering a new clubhouse that will support North Cronulla Surf Life Saving Club for generations to come.

The Club welcomes this important step forward in the redevelopment journey and acknowledges the significant work undertaken by Sutherland Shire Council and Council staff in managing the procurement process that has resulted in the appointment of Jasmax as Lead Design Consultant. We look forward to continuing to work collaboratively with Council and Jasmax as the project progresses to ensure the future facilities meet the needs of our members, volunteers and the wider community.

Our Board remains committed to ensuring the redevelopment delivers a modern, functional and financially sustainable clubhouse that supports our lifesaving operations, member activities, training, community engagement and future growth.

We understand how important this project is to every member. Your patience, resilience and ongoing support throughout this journey have been greatly appreciated, particularly through the challenges of recent years. This milestone is an important step towards securing the long-term future of our Club and ensuring we continue to provide lifesaving services and community facilities for generations to come.

As the project progresses, we will continue to keep members informed of key milestones, including design development, demolition works, approvals, project timeframes and future construction activities.

We look forward to working with Jasmax and Sutherland Shire Council as the redevelopment continues to take shape and sharing further updates with members as they become available.

Yours in Surf Life Saving,

Geoff Budd
